“Roundtable”

[6:00 PM NEWS TRANSCRIPT; REPLAYED AT 11:00 PM]

“You should continue to see North Central West Virginia excel in the business of biometrics.”

That’s the word from John Woodward, a biometrics expert from the Department of Defense. He delivered that message this morning to around 100 leading minds in the biometrics field, at the West Virginia High Technology Consortium in Fairmont. Woodward’s speech focused on the business of biometrics in the new century.
